

NJ Capital Private Limited
Refund Policy

A refund may arise in case of an inadvertant error in remittance or an incorrect calculation of due amount by the customer resulting in the Company receiving an amount which is in excess of the due amount.

In such instances if the loan is fully settled and the company has received all dues from the customer under the loan agreement, then the Company will refund the excess amount to the registered bank account of the client within a period of 15 days.

In case where loan amount is fully due and payable, then such excess amount will be retained and adjusted against the next instalment (EMI) payable by such client. The collection of the subsequent instalment (EMI) will be reduced to that extent.
